SAY REITLER IS RIGHT

Think the Commander Has Been Mistreated.

HE CRITICIZES SECRETARY TRACY.

The House Passes a Bill Over the President's Veto--Senator Morgan Thinks Americans Are Eager for a War.

HOUSE.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.--In the House Tuesday a bill was passed increasing to $100 a month the pension of the widow of General Custer. The army and pension appropriation bills were sent to conference. Mr. Abbott (Tex.), from the committee on public buildings and grounds, reported back the bill providing for an extension of the public building at Dallas, Tex., at a cost of $200,000. This bill passed Congress last session, but was vetoed by the President. The recommendation of the committee is that the bill be passed over the veto. The bill was passed--yeas, 141; nays, 69--the necessary two-thirds voting in the affirmative. The House then went into committee of the whole. Mr. Dingley (Me.) in the chair, on the legislative appropriation bill. In the general debate the Barrundia case was revived by Mr. Dalzell (Pa.), who defended the action of Commander Reiter. The public reprimand which was administered to Commander Reiter by the Secretary of the Navy, he said, was unwarranted and unjust. A naval officer had been degraded by a public reprimand without the intervention of a court-martial. The letter of the Secretary was an open, public reprimand of a naval officer of heretofore unquestionable courage and fidelity to duty. It had placed a stigma on his name and a blot on his career. It took from him his dearest possession and from his children their richest inheritance. To Commander Reiter's demand for a court-martial case came the reply that his demand showed his ignorance of naval discipline. Could it be that an honorable officer who had faithfully served his country for many years was to be degraded and disgraced by the dictum of an official whose career began yesterday and might (in the mutations of politics) end to-morrow? If it could be so it is high time that there should be some legislation on this subject. The Secretary had exceeded his power and done a wrong that called for redress. For Commander Reiter to have complied with the rule laid down by the Secretary of the Navy would have been to violate the general practice among the Spanish-American States and the well-recognized principles of international law. He (Mr. Dalzell) affirmed that Guatemala had a right to arrest Barrundia while on board the Acapulco. Was there, he asked, one law to be followed when we faced the flag of little Guatemala and another law to be followed when we faced the lion of Great Britain, the flag of France or the lordly ensign of imperial Germany? He said "nay," and if gentlemen answered him "yea" he would still insist that one officer of America who recognized the authority of South American law could be guilty of no fault in refusing to violate it unless he had instructions to the contrary. He had no such instructions. The killing of Barrundia could not do the American flag any harm. It never had been the function of our flag--it was not now, it never would be--to protect criminals, to defeat the administration of justice, to defy the well-recognized principles of international law in ports of any power, whether great or insignificant. The glory of the American flag lay not alone in the fact that it symbolized the sovereignty of a powerful, prosperous and progressive people, but in the fact that through 100 years of history, in sunshine, on land and sea, it stood always for law, order and justice. [Applause.] Those who feared disgrace to the country's flag as a result of failure of a United States officer to play the part of a bully in defiance of law failed utterly to appreciate wherein the true glory of the State consisted. They would sow the seed that some day or other would blossom into a bloody war, without glory to us, or would ripen into the fruit of national humiliation and disgrace. [Applause.] Messrs. Lodge (Mass.) and Deliver (Ia.) defended the action of the Secretary of the Navy, and Mr. Boutelle (Me.) spoke in condemnation thereof. Without disposing of the bill the committee rose and the House adjourned.

LABOR SOCIETIES UNITED.

The Federation, the Knights and the Mine-Workers Demand Eight Hours.

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 11.--The first annual convention of the United Mine-Workers of America opened Tuesday morning in this city with fully 300 delegates present, representing fifteen States of the Union. The special object of the convention is to make definite arrangements for the inauguration of a strike on May 1. The beginning of this movement has been delegated to this order by the other labor organizations.

There were present as visitors President Samuel Gompers, of the American Federation of Labor; A. W. Wright, member of the general executive board of the Knights of Labor, and Hugh Cavanaugh, general workman of the Knights of Labor. They were enthusiastically greeted on their entrance to the hall. When President Rae introduced President Gompers a significant incident occurred. Taking Mr. Gompers and Mr. Wright by the hand, he said that this illustrated the good feeling existing between the three great labor organizations. Uproarious applause followed. The speeches of the visitors showed the sympathy of the organizations they represented with the eight-hour movement and pledged their support. The sentiment of all seemed to be that everything was in good shape for a monster strike on May 1 if the operators do not accede to the demand.

The convention listened to an address by President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor at the forenoon session and considerable time was given to the committee on credentials before it was ready to report. The total number of delegates admitted to the convention was 170. The principal States represented were Ohio, Pennsylvania, Indiana, Illinois, West Virginia, Kentucky, Alabama and Washington. Committees on resolutions, scale of prices, constitution distribution and district boundaries were selected and the rest of the time given to the annual report of President John B. Rae and Secretary Robert Watchorn.

STREETER IS DROPPED.

The F. M. B. A. Trio Vote at Springfield, Ill., for John P. Stelle for Senator--The Deadlock, However, Continues.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Feb. 11.--The fourth week of the Senatorial contest opened with the greatest public interest manifested in all quarters. When the joint session had been called to order, the roll was called for the sixty-sixth ballot. On this ballot the Farmers' Alliance members dropped the name of A. J. Streeter as their candidate, and voted for John P. Stelle, editor of the Progressive Farmer, of Mount Vernon, Ill. The ballot resulted: Palmer, 101; Oglesby, 100; Stelle, 3. Seven more ballots were taken without change, when the session adjourned for the day.

Death of a Prominent Editor.

RICHMOND, Va., Feb. 11.--Colonel Richard F. Beirne, for a long time sole editor and owner of the State, one of the leading afternoon papers of this city, and one of the leading candidates for the Democratic nomination for Governor in 1890, died Monday night at his home in Ashland, near here. He was about 45 years old.

High Water in Alabama.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Feb. 11.--The Warrior river at Tuscaloosa is fifty-five feet above low-water mark and still rising. The Alabama river is out of its banks and destroying property below Montgomery.

Burglars Steal School Funds.

DURHAM, N. C., Feb. 11.--Two masked men entered the house of James Lincoln near Manheim Tuesday, chloroformed his wife and stole a large amount of money kept in the house.

A Little Mixed.

At a certain seminary for young ladies in the East the students of Germany are not allowed to speak in any other language at the table, but one young lady, more daring than the others, broke the rule and announced in English to her companions that she was "mashed" on a certain young man.

"Mashed" asked the young German who presided over the students, and who is but imperfectly acquainted with English: "mash, what does that mean?" "O," spoke up one of the young ladies, wishing to save her blushing and confused companion, "when a person is very much in love with anybody she says she is 'mashed' on him."

The girls thought that ended the matter, but what was their surprise when the next night in prayer-meeting the teacher rose with beaming face and declared: "I wish to testify, young ladies, that I am mashed on the Lord."--Cleveland Plaindealer.

CALL THE CZAR A BRUTE

Alexander Characterized as a Heartless Man.

HIS PERSECUTION OF THE JEWS.

He is Thoroughly Cognizant of the Cruel Abuse to Which the Unfortunate Israelites Are Subjected by His Officers.

INHUMAN TREATMENT.

LONDON, Feb. 11.--The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Daily Telegraph of this city telegraphs from St. Petersburg important facts in connection with the possible return by the Czar without comment of the Guildhall memorial in favor of the unfortunate, suffering Hebrews of Russia.

British sympathy, he says, has aggravated the Jews' hard lot, which was already so wretched that it seemed impossible for it to be worse. Yet the provincial Governors have redoubled the severity of the laws. Where the statutes were inapplicable the Governors have issued circulars and ukases to replace them. The Jews bitterly regret the British well-meaning but injudicious zeal which has exasperated instead of soothed the Russian Emperor. The daily severities practiced against the families of offending men, women and children are incredible and wanton. Russia's reply to Lord Mayor's respectful petition consists of secret circulars ordering her officials to rigorously administer the anti-Semitic laws, and to supply the legal deficiency by their own decisions harmonious with the Government's intolerant spirit. The Jews after the rebellion of 1846 were less cruelly and less inhumanly treated than the Jews after the London indignation meeting.

General Gurko, Governor of Warsaw, has issued a circular regulating how Jewish recruits are to be brought for medical inspection. The Jews, through the wretched lives they are forced to live, are physically degenerate and become a most striking embodiment of human life continuing in spite of a gradual decay of the vital functions. The majority of the Jewish recruits are found to be unfit for service. In the event of Christians being found unfit to perform the duties of a soldier they are sent home and are finally released from military service. The Jewish recruits, on the other hand, are worried to death. They are sent home and are subjected to a period of three years to be recalled at any moment. The recruit consequently returns to his home, hundreds of miles away, resumes his occupation and a month later is suddenly ordered to reappear for medical examination. This process is repeated at intervals of a few months during three years.

General Gurko considers this method to be insufficient, as it leaves the Jewish conscript the option of transporting himself on foot or otherwise to the town where the medical committee sits, and gives him a dangerous liberty and an opportunity to simulate illness. The result is that henceforth the police are ordered to convey the Jews on foot to the town where the committee sits. The police are to arrest and imprison recruits until the convict guard arrives, with which they are to proceed to the next prison in order to be subjected to the drags of society until they reach their destination.

Young men beginning life are subject to a repetition of this process during three years, until the youth wishes himself a soldier, serf or galley slave to earn his living. The society of murderers and thieves, who, while the Jewish recruits are in their guard, have the power of life or death over them, can blackmail them, whip them, maim, even kill them, with impunity. The victims are frequently in delicate health, and include consumptives, who the Russian doctors declare, are unable to bear the hardships of military service.

Englishmen are prone to believe that the Czar does not know the enormities perpetrated in his name. The truth is that the Czar knows enough to convince him that the Jews are more cruelly treated than horses, kine or swine, which are cared for as the gifts of God. A number of eminent Russian literary men recently addressed a declaration to the public and to journalists asking them to remember that the Jews were human beings. The Government refused to allow the declaration to be published. Thereupon people exclaimed that if the Czar knew it he would rescind the order. A personal friend of the Czar recently laid the document before him, with an humble letter from the authors asking for permission to publish it. The Czar read both papers and then flung them away.

VICTIMS OF THE STORM.

Sons of a Minnesota Farmer Perish--The Blockade is Raised.

WINONA, Minn., Feb. 11.--Two boys, sons of a German farmer named August Ford, were found dead Monday evening two miles northwest of Utica. They had perished in the blizzard.

LINCOLN, Neb., Feb. 11.--The snow blockade on the different railroad lines in this State is about over, and trains are generally on time. Nearly all the belated members of the Legislature have arrived.

The Strike is General.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Feb. 11.--Dispatches from the Connelville coke region report the strike of the coke-workers and miners as general. The plants have closed down, and the only employees on duty are the pumpers and watchmen. Order prevails at all points, and no trouble for the present at least, is apprehended. Over 17,000 men are idle.

He Stops to Conquer.

Tripps--Do you always pick up a pin when you see one lying on the pavement? Flippo--Oh no! Fact is, I don't mind telling you a secret. I didn't pick up a pin at all. You see we are right in front of the De Cash's home and her rich old father is watching me from the front window. I simply went through the motions of picking up a pin and putting it in the lapel of my coat in order to impress him with my regard for economy. He is very stingy, you know, and I'm planning to ask him for his daughter's hand in marriage. --Chicago Herald.

BABY BELL'S ESCAPE.

Only Six Years Old, but she Runs On with a Team.

Little Sophia Bell is the pretty little blue-eyed, golden-haired six-year-old daughter of Horace Bell, of Pottsville, Oregon. The little lady has an intense admiration for all things equine, and she is a very good rider. She is a very good rider. She is a very good rider.

Without further ado little Blue Eyes proceeded to untie the animal, seated herself in the carriage, and drove around the city several times with all the grace of an accomplished horsewoman. It then occurred to the little lady that she would like to visit her "grandma," who resides in the Laguna, about five miles distant, and she at once turned her horse's head in that direction.

The shades of night were falling fast, but the little Baby Bell drove on. There were five gates in the way, and Miss Bell descended from the carriage and opened them all, and reached her "grandma's" residence about 5 o'clock in the evening, who, of course, was agreeably surprised to receive a visit at such an untimely hour.

Meanwhile Mrs. Bell became alarmed at the continued absence of her daughter and instituted search for her, and knowing the little one's fondness for horses, when the agonized mother learned of the disappearance of Mr. Bell's equine, she at once concluded to search for her.

Her theory proved the correct one, and the little maiden was soon restored to her mother's arms.

EDUCATION FOR WOMEN.

The Ideal of Devotion Consistent With Conditions of Culture.

Said a brilliant woman of our day: "To be a wife and mother is not the end of my existence; the end is to be a woman." But even if with child and motherhood were the end and aim, the higher the development of the woman the better the wife and mother. Conjugal affection, maternal instinct, are none the less powerful when under the control of enlightened intelligence.

Indeed, the highest ideal of devotion, consistent with the highest conditions of culture, and she who knows most of what man knows is certainly better fitted to be his companion than is she who meets his nature only on the side of his physical comfort.

For a woman to know how to look pretty to her husband, to be able to dress to make her house a pleasant one, to be able to do things which her husband is able to do better and to be more his companion than is she who meets his nature only on the side of his physical comfort.

There were five gates in the way, and Miss Bell descended from the carriage and opened them all, and reached her "grandma's" residence about 5 o'clock in the evening, who, of course, was agreeably surprised to receive a visit at such an untimely hour.

PLAYING ON MEN'S VANITY.

PAID $1,000 AN HOUR.

Tobacco Buyer's Supplu Speedily Reduced.

NEW WAREHOUSE NEEDED.

What Janesville Must Do Before She Can Complete Advantageously With Edger-ton as a Lead-Handling Center.

Cost of Lead of Wisconsin.

"How much is a wagon load of tobacco worth?"

"Fifty dollars."

"Forty dollars."

"Wouldn't $150 come nearer to it?"

"Well, you struck it, but it took three of you to do it," said the tobacco dealer who had asked the question.

"Few people realize the large amount of money invested in tobacco here in Janesville. They would hardly believe that one firm paid out yesterday upwards of five thousand dollars to growers for tobacco delivered, but it is a fact. One dealer paid out three thousand dollars this morning before ten o'clock, and the way the growers are bringing in the tobacco it looks as though that sum would be more than double before night."

"I wish the business men, especially the capitalists of the city, would get together and build a large and convenient warehouse to rent to the eastern buyers. A good, modern warehouse, could be built for eight or ten thousand dollars, divided up by fire walls, and rented to eastern parties so that it would bring in at least five per cent to the investors. Such a warehouse built in close proximity to the railway tracks, and surrounded by water mains and fire hydrants, would induce many of the eastern tobacco men to come here and store their tobacco. It would greatly reduce insurance rates, which is quite an important item with tobacco men. Not only this, but the city should reap a great benefit. We now employ about six hundred hands in sorting tobacco in the local warehouses. Edger-ton, with scarcely any fire protection, and high insurance rates, employ about nine hundred hands in their sorting rooms. There is no reason why Janesville should not have at least one thousand or twelve hundred hands employed during the winter season in the sorting rooms."

"Tobacco men, especially the eastern buyers, will surely come here if such inducements as I have suggested are offered, and I believe it would be a profitable investment for our business men to make. Of course, they must not expect to make a million of money from the rent of such a warehouse, but you see it would make Janesville the center of the tobacco district, and the vast sums of money distributed here would be of benefit to every class of business or trade. I hope some enterprising man will take hold of this warehouse question and push it to the front the coming season, so that by next fall Janesville will be in shape to offer inducements to the eastern buyers that they will not decline."

LOCAL AMUSEMENT NOTES.

The Fortnightly is a literary club, but last night it was apparently a dramatic organization. "Down by the Sea" and "Zerubbabel's Second Wife" were the plays presented, and the rendition of both received liberal applause. Clark Dutton's guitar and harmonica solos; J. Sharp's cornet solo; and Miss Myrtle Williams' reading of "The Old Kitchen Clock" were also much enjoyed. The cast of characters in "Down by the Sea," was headed by Perry Frink as "Alden Raymond." James D. Holmes appeared as "Captain Dandelion." Will H. Col-lins as "John Gale." E. R. Inman as September Gate, George Orman as "Marek Gale," and Leon Miner as "Jean Grapes." Of the ladies Luella Minor took the part of "Kitty Gale," Nellie Gateley "Kate Raymond," and Maude Crane, "Mrs. Gale."

"Zerubbabel's Second Wife" had only three characters, but they were a host in themselves. The cast was "Deacon Strubberg," Walter Helms; "Miss Matilda Wiggins," Florine DeLong; "Peggy," Zella Harris.

Both plays will be repeated this evening, the warm praise of the audience last night being sufficient guarantee that there will be no lack in the attendance.

Hilda Thomas is the name of the fair star of "The Spider and the Fly" combination, and the Rockford Register-Gazette stops to observe that "no company over Hilda a fairer star."

The New York Commercial Advertiser says of "Spider and Fly": "M. B. Leavitt, the proprietor and manager, has neglected nothing that would enhance its value as a gorgeous spectacular production. The scenery, costumes and stage accessories are simply magnificent. The company is a large and competent one, the ladies young, pretty and graceful, the gentlemen especially selected for their part-icular roles in an extravaganza of this character. No end of funny things in "Spider and Fly."

Milwaukee is delighted with "The Bostonians," who closed their engagement in that city this evening. The Evening Wisconsin says: "The reception of Robin Hood last evening certainly shows that it will be a great addition to The Bostonians' repertory. A more thorough opera performance has never been given by any company that has visited the city."

Myers Brothers have issued the following card with reference to "Spider and Fly," booked for the opera house to-morrow evening:

"We wish to state to our patrons and others that the production of "Spider and Fly" is a strictly first class bur-lesque with nothing to offend the most fastidious. It is on the same order as "Crystal Sinner," "Diamond, Jr.," and "Henry Diller's" Adonis."

"It has reached our ears that some of the theatre goers are undecided as to taking their wives to the above perfor-mance. There is nothing more objec-tionable in this burlesque than you see in any of the comic operas."

W. H. H. MACDONALD MAY SUE.

Alderman Action on a City Coal Contract Makes Trouble.

The common council on Monday evening, by unanimous vote, disposed of the Macdonald contract in about five minutes, the council annulling the contract, and instructing the chief engineer to purchase coal elsewhere. It now looks as though it would take the Rock county circuit court several days to properly adjust the matter and determine as to which party to the contract is right. Mr. Macdonald insists that the claims of short-age made by the chief engineer are unfounded.

CREWS TO CHANGE HERE.

"Division End" Rumors Started Afresh.

TRAIN MEN ARE JUBILANT.

They Insist That by Shortening the Run of Engineers on the Vestibule, the C. & N. W. Authorities Fore-shad-ow Important Changes.

Will Janesville eventually be the di- vision end of the Northwestern road? It indicates it certainly will.

Foreman John Heath received a tele-gram from Master Mechanic B. Meloy, of Chicago to-day informing him that hereafter the engine crews of the limited St. Paul train will change in Janesville. That not only means that five crews will live in Janesville, but that other changes will follow.

The quartering of five "magnif-icent" engines in the Janesville round house, will undoubtedly cause that structure to be over-crowded. It is full most of the time as it is.

For sometime the Northwestern con-ductors, tagagamen and brakemen, who not exactly dissatisfied with their long run from Chicago to Elroy, have wanted shorter runs. The changing of the engine crew at Janesville isaid by railroad men to be decidedly probable, if not already contemplated.

It now requires five crews to run the four limited trains that go through this city. The new run will take them from Harvard and bring them to Janesville.

The engineers and firemen are much pleased with the change, and those who are on "the inside" say that the other changes will be absolutely necessary.

Railroad Men in the City.

Superintendent W. A. Gardner, As-sistant Superintendent J. C. Smart, Gen-eral Superintendent S. Sanborn, of the Chicago & Northwestern Railroad, visited Janesville last evening. Trainmaster F. R. Moulton accompanied them as far as Oaksho.

HE BLAMES HIS WIFE.

J. L. Wadleigh Talks of His Young Wife.

If reports be true, J. L. Wadleigh has not confined his operations to the Bower city. According to the Chicago Herald he is charged with raising the figures on two small checks which his wife secured by begging in Chicago.

A Gazette reporter called on Wadleigh at the jail this afternoon, and found him at work breaking stone.

"Chicago papers charge you with rais-ing those checks," he was told.

"That is untrue. I don't know any-thing about it. I was in Chicago a while ago, but I left there for northern Wis-consin looking for work. Not finding any, we came here."

"But do you know anything about the checks?"

"I know that all my trouble has come from my wife. My wife is the cause of all my troubles."

"Can't you agree?"

"No. If it was not for her, I wouldn't be here. She put the job on me that brought me here."

BRIEF TALES OF THE TOWN.

Evansville Liked Them.

The Evansville Tribune in speaking of the entertainment recently given in that village says: "Mrs. Christine Hawley, of Janesville, was heartily received by the audience. She rendered her selec-tions with great expression, having a voice of remarkable clearness and sweet-ness. Miss Nowlen, of Janesville, won her full share of praise. Her song 'Consider the Lilies' was unusually fine. Mrs. Sweeney, also of Janesville, accompanied the singers, and in such a manner as to captivate the audience."

S. B. Kenyon, a Policeman.

S. B. Kenyon has received his com-mission as special policeman for Rock county, and which gives him power to make any arrests in connection with the duties of his office of agent of the Wis-consin Humane Society. Mr. Kenyon now wears a little silver star, on which is engraved, "Special Police, Janesville Branch Wisconsin Humane Society."

"Doty Box Co." No Longer.

The board of directors of the H. A. Doty Box Company, at their annual meeting, changed the name of the com-pany to "Eagle Cigar Box and Label Company," the company still doing busi-ness at the old stand on North Main street, L. R. Treat being president, and R. W. King secretary.

Want a Janesville Nine.

Harry T. Smith, of Milwaukee, was in the city to-day in the interest of the pro-posed state league of base ball clubs, and also to induce the Bower City ball en-thusiasts to send a representative to Mar-nette to attend the meeting of league clubs.

Masons on the Jeffris' Block.

Ed. Rathern with a force of brick layers commenced laying brick on the walls of the Jeffris' new block this after-noon, intending to lay brick whenever the temperature will permit until the walls are completed. Light colored bricks are being used.

A Janesville Brick-Yard.

It is reported that a new brick yard will be established here early in the spring, and then the manufacture of red brick will be resumed.

Andrew Palmer Very Ill.

Andrew Palmer is again reported as very dangerously ill, suffering from the infirmities of his advanced age. He passed a very restless night, and is no better this afternoon.

Demand for Home Made Brick.

William Porter, who recently estab-lished a brick yard in the town of Tur-le, recently sold 18,000 brick to the Messrs. P. B. and Joseph Yater, of Be-loit.

P. S. Fenton for City Clerk.

At the request of many friends I here-by announce myself as a candidate for the office of City Clerk, at the ensuing election.

P. S. FENTON.

DEATH'S DAILY RECORD.

John Howard.

Died at the residence of his sister, Mrs. S. W. Gould, town of La Prairie, Rock county, January 29, 1891. John Howard, after a brief illness of consumption, aged forty-nine years seven months and three days. He was a native of Buckingham-shire, England. Came to America when quite a young man, spending the early part of his days in New York state and Canada, and subsequently moved to Rock county, where he has resided some thirty years. Mr. Howard was twice married, six chil-dren being born to him by his first wife, three of whom survive him; also three by his second wife. He died trusting in God, and his end was peace. He has left a large circle of friends who mourn his untimely death. He was much com-forted in his last days by the presence of his entire family of brothers and sisters, three of whom reside here, one brother in Canada, one in Missouri and one in Iowa. He was interred in the Janesville cemetery, the funeral services being held at his own home and conducted by Rev. Mr. Peterson, of Shopton.

Funeral of Mrs. Murphy.

The remains of Mrs. Murphy were gently lowered into a grave in Mount Olivet cemetery, Messrs. John Byrne, James Nash, Richard Barry, Thomas Cloonan, Edward Murphy, Dudley Con-nors, acting as pall bearers. The funeral services were held in St. Patrick's church, and a large number of friends present, and a large number of people in carriages followed the remains to their last resting place.

John Kerr.

John Kerr died of pneumonia at Dix-on, California, January 27, aged sixty-five years, nine months and twenty-three days. He was a native of Potlaid, St. Lawrence county, New York, and for many years was a resident of Rock county. About twenty-two years ago he re-moved with his family to Soloto county, California, where he resided until his death.

CALL FOR INSTITUTES.

Rock County Farmers Petition the Legislature.

A FIRE NEAR FOOTVILLE.

Evansville Methodists to Dedicate Their New Church Sunday—Orderville Wants More Wells—Janesville Singers to Evansville—Other Items of News.

ORDERVILLE, Feb. 11.—The farmers in this vicinity have drawn up and for-warded to the legislature a memorial against the repeal of the statute providing for the conducting of farm institutes. The remonstrance was signed by large numbers regardless of party lines, and would indicate that the tillers of the soil in Spring Valley and the adjoining towns, have not the utmost confidence in a legislature, the majority of whom be-long to the party who are the self-styled "Farmers' Friends."

John Grady, of Maringo, Illinois, is spending the week among friends at Or-derville.

Presiding Elder Bosworth conducted quarterly service at the M. E. church on Sunday, preaching Saturday evening and Sunday morning.

One week from next Sunday Rev. Prescott, pastor of the Baptist church, will preach his farewell sermon, he hav-ing a call from the church at Black River Falls, Wisconsin. Elder Prescott has been the pastor here for several years, and his congregation very much regret having to part with him.

Wallis Lacey, of Neilsville, Wiscon-sin, is renewing old acquaintances in this vicinity.

The call of the well drilled ma-chine is still heard on all sides. Or-derville is a dry town.

On Thursday evening of next week, at the M. E. church, there will be a festival for the benefit of the pastor. All are in-vited.

On Sunday evening S. R. Titus, of Beloit, will give at the Methodist church a concert on an astronomical "The Mission of the Heavens, or an Evening Among the Stars." Admission: Sunday evening free; Monday evening fifty cents. Mr. Titus comes highly recom-mended and the entertainment will be under the auspices of the church society.

HOUSE BURNED IN FOOTVILLE.

Tramps Held Responsible for an Early Morning Blaze.

At an early hour Saturday morning a dwelling house on the farm of Ira Fisher, near Footville, was burned to the ground. As the building was uninhab-ited at the time, it was thought to be the work of tramps, who, it is said, have frequently spent the night there since Mr. Wells' family moved out some two weeks ago. Loss is partially covered by insurance.

Dennis Ryan is on the sick list.

Mrs. William Owen is lying very seriously sick at her home here; almost at the point of death, and it is feared she cannot recover. Her children are all with her except Mrs. McCrea, who is necessarily detained at home by the severe illness of her own little daughter, who is sick with scarlet fever.

Mrs. Mattie Paruley, of Chicago, ar-rived in town a short time since to be with her mother, who as above stated is to very ill.

J. E. Kelley, station agent at Rugby Junction, made a flying visit to this place last Saturday.

Mr. McCrea was called in town last week.

It is expected that quite a number will be baptized at the Disciple church next Sunday evening.

Henry Ferguson visited friends in the country last Sunday.

Dr. Smith, of Evansville, was in town last week.

A very pleasant gathering took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wells last Friday evening. A number of the young associates of Miss Man-had planned a little surprise for her, and their plans were successfully carried out, for it was indeed a complete surprise to that young lady. Nevertheless, the oc-casion was none the less enjoyable, and the who were fortunate enough to at-tend, felt that it was an event long to be remembered by them.

EVANSVILLE MAN'S BAD LUCK.

B. W. Hubbard Still Suffering From a Janesville Accident—Church Dedicated.

EVANSVILLE, Feb. 11.—B. W. Hub-bard, who was hurt last fall by a wheel of a bus coming off in Janesville, is still confined to the house most of the time. Mr. Hubbard has tried several doctors, but he has had little help from any of them. His troubles are in the spine.

George H. Rummel will start a reor-dering tobacco in the Chicago & North-western warehouse next Monday.

Mr. Wood, of Elgin, who is to have charge of the creamery in this place this season, was in town several days last week Saturday.

The Sunbeam Medicine Company, of Chicago, will remain here another week. The dedication services of the Metho-dist church will be conducted by Rev. Mr. Benjamin, of Whitewater, next Sun-day. The cost of the addition and re-pairs will be about $3,000.

Miss S. L. Copeland returned from Albany Monday where she has been visit-ing her father and sister for the past three weeks.

The concert given by the Baptist society last Friday night was well attended, and the programme gave satisfaction. Mrs. Christine Adams, Miss Nellie and Mrs. J. F. Sweeney, of Janesville, and Miss Ragan, of Madison, took part.
